SONGS AND CHEERS FOR LABOR BUREAU MAN MEAD

Five Hundred a Day Now Going to Honolulu Plantation Are All
That Remains of Strike-Breaking Workmen.

No more strike breakers for Oahu plantation.

This was the word that was passed down the line on Saturday, and when the afternoon labor train came in there were great doings at the station.

Oahu plantation doesn't need the strike breakers. Manager Bull has so far perfected his organization that was disrupted by a walk-out of the Japanese that beginning this morning he will carry on the work on what might be termed a normal basis. He has finished his planting on the twentieth of this month. Previous years it was finished on the eleventh of September, so he is in pretty good condition despite the upheavals and labor troubles.

Mr. Bull must have used his strike breakers pretty well, judging from the joy at the station on Saturday night, and Labor Bureau Manager R. D. Mead came in for a send-off from the men he has been employing that made the welkin ring.

The strikebreakers' force, made up largely of Hawaiians, had been notified that Saturday was the last day for Waipahu. When their train came in they were a happy lot, notwithstanding they had lost their jobs. About one hundred men had passed the gate when those remaining struck up "Aloha Oe," and it was well sung. Each man as he got his pay check had a pleasant word for Mr. Mead, and the greater part of them remained near the station, still singing and happy. When the paying off was finished a great crowd of the Hawaiians gathered in the station and gave cheer after cheer for Mr. Mead, and every last one of them shook hands, thanked him for giving them jobs for so long a time and at such good pay, and then with a final cheer went home.

VESSELS OFF FOR MAALAE

Cruisers Are Ready For Unusual Speed
Tests

When the old racing captains on the Mississippi started on their record trips up and down the Father of Waters with a rival close astern they used to send a little nigger boy down to sit on the safety valve. A high degree of speed was maintained as long as the little nigger boy lasted.

There are no juvenile darkies on board the Pacific fleet, and their presence is not required with the invention of more modern machinery, but figuratively the entire fleet will be sitting on the safety valves during the speed test off Maalaea Bay, Maui. If the safety valves stand the strain all is well; if some chunk of mechanism gives up the ghost and retires from active service there will be large gobs of pipikia for Uncle Sam's men on the fighting machines.

The Washington left her wharf at seven this morning and the Maryland and Pennsylvania were close behind. The vessels formed in squadron formation as soon as they were all outside the reef and disappeared over the horizon to the scene of their speed tests. Chief of Staff Captain Benson has arranged to notify Honolulu and the world in general of the result of the tests.

The Colorado remains. The Honolulu Iron Works will commence work on her today making repairs to her boilers and tubes, and, although it is rumored that she will return to Mare Island, it is improbable. The fleet will return next Saturday and will recede and prepare for the next leg of the voyage. The Glacier will arrive on the 29th with supplies for the vessels.

LLOYD CASE BEFORE SUPREME COURT OCT. 4

In the case of Lloyd against the Territory, the Supreme Court will hear the merits of the suit on October 2. Lloyd sued the Territory some time ago for money alleged to be due him for extra services rendered the Legislature. The Circuit Court ruled that the work done was included in the regular service of the stenographer. It was taken to the Supreme Court, and plaintiff's first demurrer was not sustained. In review of the demurrer filed by the Territory, it was lost, and the matter on briefs now comes before the Court for final hearing.

New Post Is Soon To Be Built

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—It was stated today at the War Department that construction would soon begin on an army post at Honolulu.

This probably has reference to the development of Fort Shafter to a larger post, or it may have to do with the barracks to be erected at Walkiki. There is even a possibility that it means the permanent post at Leliehu, as the people of the east are not always acquainted with the magnificent distances of the island.

"The European beet crop is a million tons short," said Harry Armitage this morning, in discussing the sugar situation. "Which is the cause of the recent rise in prices, and the flurry on the market."

"What figure does Oxnard cut in the sugar world?" he was asked.

"None whatever. He is out of the game. The Sugar Trust is the whole thing. What they say goes as far as sugar is concerned."

LEIGHTON URGES A DEFINITE LAND POLICY

Insists People Should

Councils

Marston Campbell has in his hands an exhaustive report prepared by M. O. Leighton, chief hydrographer of the United States Geological Survey, who made an extended visit in the islands in connection with the work mapped out for him by the Federal Government upon the request of Superintendent Campbell. In beginning his report Mr. Leighton says:

"I have the honor to submit herewith a report of observations and conclusions, resulting from a reconnaissance of the four major islands of the Territory during the period July 29th to September 9, 1909.

"This reconnaissance is the direct result of a visit made by myself to Washington, D. C., in May 1909, for the purpose of securing assistance from the United States Geological Survey. The representations made by you at that time included among other things the following:

"First: That the Territory of Hawaii was in urgent need of an investigation of water resources.

"Second: That owing to a peculiar ruling of the Comptroller of the U. S. Treasury the Territory of Hawaii has been excluded from participation in the general appropriations of the Geological Survey, although other territories were not likewise excluded.

"Third: That pending the enactment in Congress of legislation that would remove the discriminatory effect of this decision, the Territory of Hawaii, recognizing the necessity for immediate action, had provided funds sufficient for the purpose."

RIOT PROSECUTION RESTS ITS CASE

New Witness Tells Of Actions Of The Mob

The prosecution in the Waipahu riot cases rested this morning after a new and strong witness had been placed on the stand to testify to the riotous gathering of Japanese at Waipahu on June 8. The witness was George Robinson, an employee of the city and county road department and his story was told in a straightforward manner that carried conviction.

Robinson told of being present at Waipahu on the day of the riot, testified to seeing the returning workmen attacked by the enraged mob, the yells of which he said could be easily heard for a mile. Robinson's testimony should prove ample to controvert the attempt of the defense to make it appear that "one stick and one stone" was thrown by the strikers. Robinson told of seeing many stones and numerous sticks being hurled at the police after they had made the arrest and that he saw the missiles strike the horses of the police and the houses nearby.

Under cross-examination Robinson was unshaken and adhered to the main portions of his story of the actions of the mob on the day of the riot.

The other witnesses placed on the stand this morning were William Woods, Glen Kamaoka and Muriyama, the official Japanese interpreter, who gave his version of the belligerent interpretation to be placed upon the Japanese word "tataka."

Judge Robinson this morning signed an order confirming the sale of real estate by Abraham Kaleikua, guardian of Peter, Rose, James H. and Elizabeth H. Niolo.

Judge Robinson this morning granted a decree of divorce to Flora Apao against James Apao. Cruelty was the grounds alleged in the complaint.

R. W. Filler, superintendent of the Hilo railroad, is in town on a business trip. He will probably remain for a week or so.

MRS. SCOTT BRINGS SUIT AGAINST BABBITT

Ousted Principal Of Holualoa Asks
Damages

DENIES CHARGES OF INHUMAN CRUELTY

Declares Department of Public Instruction Is Guilty of Breach of Contract and Unfair Methods.

Mrs. Nettie L. Scott, one time principal of the Holualoa School, Kona, is not going to rest content with the mandate from the Department of Public Instruction, which told her briefly and in pointed terms that her services were no longer required at Holualoa.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Babbitt this morning was served with the copy of the complaint in an action for $1500 damages brought by Mrs. Scott in the Third Circuit as an aftermath to the difficulties that resulted in her dismissal as the principal of the Holualoa school and the resignation of her assistant, Mrs. Maydwell, who, it is understood, will be provided with another position in some other district.

The suit bears the title of Nettie L. Scott versus the Department of Public Instruction of the Territory of Hawaii.

The complaint states that on Aug. 31 last Mrs. Scott completed twenty years of continuous service in the employ of the Department, and that during that time her work was formally commented upon in numerous reports.

KILAUEA LAVA IS RISING TO NEW ACTIVITY

George Lycourus has received the following wireless from Demosthenes at the Volcano House:

"Crater extraordinarily active. Lava rising very fast. Approx. 200 feet from the top."

This means that the increased activity evident when the Congressional party was at the crater has continued with new vigor. According to all appearances the lava is rising and will soon overflow into the floor of the crater. As a matter of fact the best time to see the action is when it is possible to sit on the edge of Halemauau a comfortable distance from the heat as at present.

Efforts are being made to organize and start the investigations.
